

Campaigners call for artists to contribute to NHS 70th anniversary exhibition

Written by Administrator
Sunday, 10 June 2018 20:27 -

Press Release 11/06/2018, Keep Gloucestershire's NHS Public. Contact: James Beecher – 07734 058789

- NHS funding exhibition, Monday 25th – Saturday 30th June, 11-5pm, Lansdown Gallery
- Expert on PFI to speak at Opening night, Monday 25th 6-9pm
- Call for artists to produce posters based on quotes from Aneurin Bevan.
- Part of Keep Gloucestershire's NHS Public's "NHS 70 Stroud" events
- Crowdfunder has raised £496 from 20 people so far

The NHS was founded on 5th July 1948 and members of the Keep Gloucestershire's NHS Public campaign are kicking off their series of 70th anniversary celebration events with a call to artists to contribute to an exhibition at the Lansdown Gallery from Monday 25th – Saturday 30th June.

The campaigners are asking artists to create a poster based on one of seven quotes from Aneurin Bevan about the principles of the NHS (the quotes and more information are available at NHS70Stroud.wordpress.com/call-to-artists). The works will accompany a photographic exhibition by Marion Macalpine on Private Finance Initiatives or PFI, called "How Come We're Still Paying For This?"), as well as historic local images, and will then be submitted to The World Transformed Festival in Liverpool in September.

An opening night for the exhibition at Lansdown Gallery on Monday 25th June from 6-9pm will feature Helen Mercer, a recently retired as a Senior Lecturer in Economics at Greenwich University and founding member of People vs PFI , speaking about how to solve the problems PFI is causing in the NHS. The event, as well as the exhibition, is free entry.

The photographs have been described as a "Brilliant, eye-opener exhibition!" and a "Superb

Campaigners call for artists to contribute to NHS 70th anniversary exhibition

Written by Administrator
Sunday, 10 June 2018 20:27 -

gallery show. Very clear and hard hitting.” More information is available at NHS70Stroud.wordpress.com/exhibition

The exhibition will be open from 11-5pm daily at the Lansdown Gallery on Lansdown Road from Monday 25th – Saturday 30th June. It forms part of Keep Gloucestershire’s NHS Public’s series of activities to mark the 70th anniversary of the NHS – which include offering transport to a national celebration and demonstration in London on Saturday 30th June, and holding a picnic, party and series of talks in Lansdown Hall and Bank Gardens on the 7th July.

Campaigners with Keep Gloucestershire’s NHS Public launched their programme of activities over the weekend, and copies are now available around Stroud and the rest of the county. The full programme and further information is available at: NHS70Stroud.wordpress.com . The events – which are all free entry – are supported by an online crowdfunder, which has raised £496 from 20 people so far.

Spokesperson for KGNP, James Beecher, said: “We’re really excited to be kicking off our celebrations of the 70th anniversary of the NHS. Bevan’s book ‘In Place of Fear’ is a great piece of work on the founding principles of the NHS which we think are worth reflecting on today – we look forward to seeing contributions from artists to the quotes we’ve picked out”.

One of the quotes from Aneurin Bevan, the Health Minister at the time of the introduction of the NHS, reads: “The essence of a satisfactory health service is that the rich and the poor are treated alike, that poverty is not a disability, and wealth is not advantaged.”

ENDS